On this Memorial Day week I was in the Midwest traveling thru Severe weather with Tornados and dangerous heavy rains. Not one area I was in had any weather information. All stations available on my rental car had only canned music mostly from California with local ID's added. I think that NAB would be ripe for a class action lawsuit for blocking this important service. That these stations do not provide for their local listeners this vital information should be reason to pull their license. Most over the air radio has deteriorated to canned junk that endlessly repeats with no local content except for ads and call signs. The only common good being served is an over concentrated monopoly on radio service...at the expense of the public interest. I sincerely hope that anyone killed or injured by this lack of public safety services gets to haunt these overstuffed media pigs.
